Discover Our Process

Our translation process comprises four key steps, each executed by highly qualified linguists:

Translation

In the Translation step, a subject-matter expert accurately translates the text into the target language while ensuring cultural nuances are preserved.

Review

The Review step involves a separate translator checking the translation for fluency and consistency with the source material.

Proofreading

The Proofreading step ensures that the text is free from grammatical errors, spelling mistakes, and punctuation errors. A proofreader who is a native speaker of the target language will meticulously review the text to eliminate any typos and grammatical errors.

Quality Assurance

Quality assurance will be conducted by a dedicated linguist to ensure that the final document meets the client's specifications for overall quality and consistency.

For large-scale projects involving multiple translators, an editor-in-chief ensures consistency in style and adherence to project guidelines throughout the entire process.
